

A photograph of two hikers in red jackets and dark pants standing on a rocky mountain peak. They are holding hands and looking towards the camera. The background shows a clear blue sky and distant mountain ranges.

Identifying Resources to Help Your Community Fight Gun Violence with ShotSpotter®.

If you want to bring ShotSpotter into your community, don't let funding issues be an obstacle. SST can help you access the funds you need.

Budgets Are Tight

Throughout the US, law enforcement is constantly being asked to do more with less. Responding to shootings and preventing gun violence is a top priority for most communities, but where will you find the money? If you want to bring ShotSpotter into your community, don't let the funding issue be a stumbling block. SST can help you access the needed funds.

Potential Funding Sources

Our funding consultants will provide your agency with a free review of all available grants. You won't have to choose between SST's gunfire detection and alert system or putting more officers on the streets.

Let us review your funding options with you:

- Federal Competitive Grants and Formula Funds
- Asset Forfeiture Funds
- Community Public Safety Partners
- Public Housing Agencies
- Community Funds
- Community Benefit Funds

Our team will help you select and apply for the program(s) that are the best fit for your community. Our goal is to guide you towards the easiest ways to successfully fund ShotSpotter in your community.

Contact Us Today

Email us at Funding@ShotSpotter.com to get started today.

